PREPARE IN DETAIL FOR CO. K CAMP

MEREDITH HELD ON SIX BOGUS CHECK CHARGES

Several Guardsmen from Sikeston have been selected by the Commanding Officer, 140th Infantry, to be instructors in the schools which are held within the regiment during the afternoon periods while at Camp Clark in August.

At these schools instruction in more detail is given than is given during the morning drill periods. Students from each company are selected by the unit commanders, and the men so selected are then available as instructors when the units return to their home stations.

In the school for Company supply officers, supply sergeants, and mechanics, the instructor in charge is Captain Tanner C. Dye, who is the Supply Officer, 140th Infantry.

The schedule for this school calls for demonstrations, the actual preparation of forms for handling damaged or destroyed property, lectures on the care and storing of federal property, and the methods used in property accounting. This school will be conducted on the first three days of both weeks.

In the Weapons School, Captain A. D. Sheppard of Doniphan is the senior instructor and he has Sergeant Guy Weekley of Co. K to assist in rifle marksmanship and Corporal J. F. Cox of Co. K to assist with the automatic rifle work. These two NCOs were selected because of their interest and ability with the weapons.

It will be recalled that Corporal Cox was called upon to give a demonstration with the auto rifle at the time of the last Annual Armory Inspection early this year.

Especial attention will be given in the Weapons School to teaching the correct coaching methods so that the students will be available as coaches when record and preliminary firing is done during the last three days of the first week in Camp.

Instruction in the coaching methods to be used in firing the pistol will also be given those men in units which are armed with that weapon, and it is hoped that many troopers from Co. K will return to Sikeston authorized and qualified to wear the coveted marksmanship medals and bars.

MEREDITH HELD ON SIX BOGUS CHECK CHARGES

Meredith Sellards, 21, now an attorney of St. Louis, was being held by St. Louis police Wednesday on six charges in connection with passing worthless checks in the city. Information was furnished by Miss Gertrude Kelly, convicted and escaped bad check passer, in a statement filed with the Circuit Attorney's office.

Sellards, who has been under arrest since Saturday, refused to discuss the case with reporters in his cell at Police Headquarters last night other than to deny the charges. "All I know about the case is what the police have told me and you know how they change their minds so often", Sellards declared.

"However, I absolutely deny any charges in connection with the passing of worthless checks, or having any connection with anyone passing worthless checks", he asserted.

In response to questions by reporters, Sellards said he did not know Miss Kelly, and as far as he knew, had never met her. Asked if he could explain then why she had implicated him, Sellards replied; "I do not know of any reason for her doing anything like that unless someone is trying to frame". He refused to discuss the case further, promising to give out a statement after he is released on bail today.

Sellards said his attorney, Joseph Linder, had notified his father, who resides at Festus, Mo., and he had promised to come to St. Louis today and arrange bail. Circuit Attorney Miller announced he would require the attorney to furnish $1500 bond on each of the charges.

Sellards is a tall, broad-shouldered young man, with dark hair combed straight back. He said he was graduated from the City College of Law in 1928, and until March of this year had an office in the Paul Brown Building.

Sellards is believed to be a former Sikestonian, a graduate from the local high school, class of '26.

TEMPERATURE BELOW 100 MARK THIS WEEK

Sikeston enjoyed a brief "rest stop" this week from Old Sol's endurance record when the temperature tumbled from 110 degrees Monday to 99 Tuesday and only 98 Wednesday.

Relief-bringing winds breezed along during the two-day period cooling off the heat-stricken area. Minimum or lowest temperatures for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are given as 77, 76 and 72 degrees respectively.

A trace of rain was noticed Thursday morning, and cloudy skies raised hopes, whether false or true, for a real drenching downpour.

Thermometers substantiated the hopes for a rain. The mercury gradually dropped Thursday morning, reaching a relatively low point of 80.5 degrees by 9:25 o'clock.

E. L. Griffin of Charleston was the guest of friends in Sikeston Wednesday.

Mrs. John H. Galeener and sons, Jerry and John, Mrs. J. H. Yount and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. Price of St. Louis are expected at the home of Mrs. John E. Marshall Saturday for a visit.

Mrs. Lyman Bowman, Miss Fordy Bowman and Ben Bowman drove to Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday to meet Mrs. Paul Loebbe and son of Birmingham, Ala., who will visit in Sikeston for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Matthews and Miss Lillian Bergman drove to Memphis, Tenn., Wednesday, returning Thursday.

Ben Welter has been spending his vacation at Riner's Ranch in the Ozarks.

'GOVERNMENT SHOULD AID IN DROUGHT'

Piggott, Ark., July 29.—Senator Robinson in his address here yesterday heard by four thousand persons, among other things said:

"A great blight has fallen on the land. An appalling condition is threatened to the farmers of our State. There will be almost a complete crop failure due to the drought.

Practically no feed for livestock will be produced this season. Not better than one-third of a crop of corn and cotton can be hoped for. There will be a failure of fresh vegetable supply. The results will be limited to this year, but will extend to 1931.

"At the beginning of next season our farmers will be without seed, feed and other supplies. Their credit will have been exhausted. Local financial institutions will not be able to furnish adequate funds. Bankruptcy indeed threatens many farmers now. This problem is so vital that it overshadows partisan and personal considerations and requires decisive co-operation. Both the State and the federal government should help in tiding over the danger.

"Seed, foodstuffs and funds necessary to enable farmers in the drought stricken areas to carry on must be supplied under the most liberal arrangements possible. To avert the wholesale foreclosure of farm mortgages something in the nature of a moratorium must be put into effect.

"The details will be difficult, but not impossible to work out. This proposal is neither visionary nor impracticable. It rests on sound policy and the Congress will be responsible to the suggestion when the facts are fairly presented.

"It may be necessary that the State join with the national government in sharing the liability and in administering the relief. I have no doubt that a fair and just understanding to this end can be effected and I shall devote every possible effort in drafting and securing the passage of the necessary legislation".

FIRE DESTROYS LOG HOUSE BUILT 1874 NEAR BENTON

Monday, July 28, the home of Walter Goddard, near the top of Jackson Hill was burned to the ground. The family had just eaten dinner and Mr. Goddard and son, Henry, had comfortably seated themselves on the front porch to enjoy a summer breeze rustling through the tree tops while the thermometer was registering at 107 degrees in the shade, and Mrs. Goddard, who was still back in the kitchen, happened to notice fire falling from the ceiling.

Realizing the time was on for some quick action, they managed to save a part of their household goods, but quite a lot of canned fruit in a cellar was burned. The house was insured. The family was fortunate to have a vacant tenant house nearby, where they will live until they can rebuild. This was a log house of the old pioneer type and was built by J. C. Clymer in 1874, and had weathered the storms of many winters.—Joe L. Moore.

SHARTEL HAS UNTIL SATURDAY TO FILE

Attorney General Sharrel has until Saturday this week to file a brief in the case of City of Sikeston vs. L. D. Thompson, State Auditor. The friendly test case originated from the April 1 election in which Sikeston voted on a municipal light and power to not vote to carry the proposition.

The State contends in the present suit that enough qualified voters did not vote to carry the proposition.

A fifteen-day period was granted the Attorney-General to file a brief, when the City originally filed its writ with the State Auditor.

Chief Justice Randolph has indicated that he would assign the case to one of the Justices on the State Supreme Bench in the near future and that a decision might be expected within the next thirty days.

FORMER SIKESTONIAN DIES WHILE VISITING IN KENTUCKY

Mrs. Nellie Anne Wallace, 28 years old, died Saturday at the home of her brother, Ellard Tate, in Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Wallace had been living in Flint, Mich., and underwent an operation recently. While convalescing, she came to Sikeston to visit relatives, and two weeks ago went to Kentucky to visit her brother. In Louisville she became critically ill, necessitating an operation for acute appendicitis. Peritonitis developed and the patient died a few days after the operation.

Besides her husband, Hubert Wallace, she leaves her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tate, three brothers and three sisters.

The body was brought to the Welsh Funeral Parlor and services were conducted Tuesday evening at the Sikeston Baptist church with Rev. A. C. Rudloff officiating. Interment was made in the Sikeston City Cemetery.

24 B'VILLE GOLFERS IN SUNDAY TOURNEY

Blytheville will invade the Sikeston golfing realm Sunday with twenty-four players, according to arrangements completed this week between the two clubs.

Sikeston's sharpshooters were defeated in rather convincing fashion earlier in the season when they visited the Arkansas County Club. The visitors come to Southeast Missouri with a reputation of being distance shooters, and the local boys have been braving the heat this week in an attempt to whittle down that extra stroke or two which may be the margin between victory or defeat.

Services were conducted at the Methodist church at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, with Rev. C. C. Barnhardt officiating. Interment in the Sikeston City Cemetery, Welsh in charge.

A large number of floral wreaths and decorative pieces bespeak the high esteem in which the family is held in this city. Rev. and Mrs. Jno. O. Ensor and Rev. and Mrs. Wendell Ensor attended the services.

PHELPS INFANT SUCCUMBS

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Phelps died at the family residence south of South last Wednesday. Services were conducted at the residence at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon with interment in Noland Cemetery, Welsh of Sikeston in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brenton and daughter, Betty, left Thursday for Steelville and Salem for a few days outing.

Mrs. E. C. Matthews entertained a few friends Tuesday afternoon, complimenting her sister, Miss Lillian Bergman.

Tom Malone will give his warriors a complete rest next Sunday. Burris is still suffering from a shoulder injury, and the club treasury is suffering from drought.

The newspaper directory just issued by the American Press Association gives the sworn circulation of The Sikeston Standard as 1950, and the circulation (not sworn to) of The Sikeston Herald as 2400. This is to notify Sikeston merchants and foreign advertisers that the sworn circulation of The Standard is a true statement of facts and the estimated circulation of The Herald is either a misprint or a willful mis-statement made to deceive the public. We would like for the editor of The Herald to tell us just how this mistake or mis-statement was allowed to go to press in this late edition, and why he has permitted newspaper directors heretofore to carry his circulation as 2400 when he knew he didn't have that sort of a circulation.

This fall and winter promises to be a hard one for our people of the farm and of the town to get through. Crops are exceedingly short, many are now unemployed with a large number to join them in the early winter. Our shoe factory has been, and now is, a God send to the city and to the people. Hope they can increase their working force to full limit in order that more people can find employment. Many will be deprived of luxuries and those who can afford them will live moderately in keeping with their less fortunate neighbor. It is a mighty good time to economize, watch your step and pray.

Rev. Ensor, pastor of the Methodist Church at Murray, Ky., was a caller on the editor during the week. He and Mrs. Ensor were called here by the death of their grandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ensor. We have always liked this Methodist preacher for he had many traits like our own, and a lot that was so much better. When he was pastor in this city, we frequently heard him preach and when another comes just like him, we'll go to hear him. Good health to Rev. Ensor.

Laws make it impossible for a person who is given a free ride to sue the driver of the auto for damages, are gaining in popularity: which is no more than a legislative recognition of the just and sound old proverb that it is a small man who will look a gift horse in the mouth.

LAST MEMPHIS PACKET LINE TO SUSPEND NEXT WEEK

Memphis, Tenn., July 22.—The Valquines Steamers, Inc., last of the Mississippi River packet lines here, announced today operations will be suspended next week.

Kenneth Hill, general superintendent, said the Federal Government's decision to haul levee materials on gasoline barges removed the last source of substantial revenue. Three boats are to be offered for sale, and unless they are put back into service by someone else, their passing leaves Memphis without a packet service for the first time in more than a century.

The "Valley Queen" is to go to New Madrid, Mo., on her last trip next Monday and leave the following Thursday.

FARMER FINDS TOURISTS
A PEST IN MELON PATCH

Washington, July 27.—Taking issue with Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, regarding the protests of 35 nations against the tariff act, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi said today that the rates in this law had prevented American farmers from selling their surplus abroad and caused a slowing down in industry, creating "increased unemployment and business depression generally".

The Applegate patch is near the highway north of Sikeston, conveniently located it seems, for those adept at plucking, plugging and getting away with the fruit.

Iceland is celebrating the thousandth anniversary of the founding of its parliament. A country which can survive a millennium of legislation has nothing to fear from the future.

The mails at the Chillicothe Business College the past two weeks have frequently run over 200 inquiries a day, mostly about September enrollments and indicate a greater attendance than ever this fall and winter.

"Their reasons are not a secret, but are openly expressed by the statement of that country; similar action has already been taken against us by Italy, Spain, France and Switzerland. There are other countries now laying plans to impose retaliatory rates against us as well as the formulation of cartels and boycotts against our goods."

Numerous American enterprises which have been able to prosper and enlarge their operations, thereby furnishing employment to larger numbers of employees and swell the revenues of the Federal Government, as well as State and municipal governments, are finding it necessary, because of the attitude of foreign countries against us, to restrict their operations here and locate plants abroad in order to meet these new and narrow policies of our government.

No one factor has been more influential in precipitating economic chaos in so many businesses in this country than has the agitation, consideration and enactment of the Grundy-Smoot tariff law. The farmers are feeling it because they cannot sell their exportable surplus abroad. The low price of wheat and cotton are illustrative.

Many in this community will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit Dr. Dieterich on this special visit to Dexter and Cape Girardeau. The doctor pays special attention to the SCIENCE OF INTERNAL MEDICINE AND DIETETICS. He is trying conscientiously to eliminate surgery in his treatment of disease as far as possible.

He has to his credit many wonderful results in diseases of stomach, (especially ulcers), glands (especially goitre), ailments of women, diseases of liver and bowels, as infected gall bladder, gall stones, appendicitis, chronic constipation, colitis, auto-intoxication and rectal ailments, circulation disturbances as high or low blood pressure, heart and blood disorders, skin, nerves, bladder, kidneys, bed-wetting, weak lungs, tonsils, adenoids, metabolic disturbances such as Rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers and chronic catarrh.

Medicines are prescribed and prepared for each individual case in his private laboratory, also special attention given to diet as to proper balance and selection of foods.

Cricket Hicks was seated on a stump near the postoffice in deep meditation, just as the sun was sinking behind Atlas Peck's stable. Presently a drove of razorback hogs marched up by his side and stood gazing wishfully at him. Depreciation in the Value of Your

is not caused so much by age as it is caused by neglect—and exposure to the weather. If you own a new car, you can, by proper care and housing during the bad weather save enough in depreciation, to pay for one of our good used cars—and then let the used car stand out in the bad weather.

We Have Used Cars at All Prices, and With An O. K. That Counts

Neglect—another cause of depreciation. If you will let our mechanical department at regular intervals inspect your car, whether it is new or used, it will save you many a dollar in depreciation, in loss of time and unnecessary expense while out on the road.

1927 CHEVROLET COACH

Your old car and a small down payment will handle this one. Here is one of the highest grade used cars we have ever handled. New car service and value at Used Car price.

1926 CHEVROLET TOURING

Here's a car that has been put in A-1 shape that can be bought at an amazingly low price. Let us prove this bargain through a demonstration.

1926 CHEVROLET COACH

Here is a value that will surprise you. Good mechanically, with good paint, tires, etc. Don't overlook this one if you want a coupe.

YOU CAN LAY A BET—

Whenever you see cut prices on tires you can bet that the quality has been cut to make those prices possible.

For the mileage they will give that variety of tires are always high priced—the "bargain" price is the bait to attract you to the inferior goods.

When you invest in Goodrich Silvertowns you can be sure you are getting the best at the lowest price at which that quality can be procured.

That means maximum mileage for your money.

Perfection in Valve Grinding

Valves that seat improperly due to carbon deposits and wear should have the attention of our mechanics. And it is just as important that you employ competent workmen as it is to have the work done. Bring us your car for valve grinding or repairing.

One hundred and twenty men, women and children will be guests of The Standard at the Cole Bros. Circus this afternoon. The management trusts each one of them will enjoy the performance and forget their troubles for the time being, should they have any. It was mighty fine of the circus people to meet us on this proposition and it is with pleasure the management extends this courtesy to these friends.

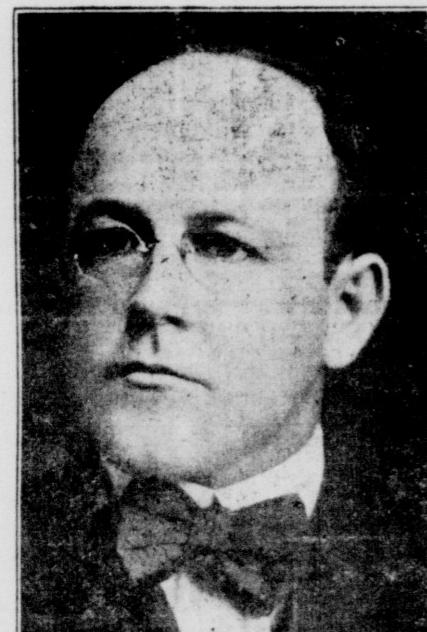

Wednesday morning a special delivery letter was received from our son, Milton, stating that he was in St. Mary's Hospital at Evanston, Ill. His fever had been 103½ but had subsided and he had expected to be released in a day or two and would then resume his studies at the Northwestern University. Well, our nerves are already shot to pieces by sickness in the family and a few more cases cannot hurt.

The Cole Bros. Circus will pitch their canvas on a lot near the High School and have tent room to care for all comers. We'll be there early, though we have no grandchildren to take, and the Missus and I can hold hands and enjoy the show as of old.

The Standard editor is extremely sorry to hear that Miss Letha Scott is quite ill at the home of her parents in this city. When we were ill several months ago, this big-hearted young woman remembered us with a gorgeous bunch of roses that cheered us very much. We shall not forget her and shall, and do wish, for her, a speedy recovery. She is suffering from adhesions following an operation for appendicitis.

Tuesday is primary election. Disappointments to some and happiness to others. Resolve to support the other fellow as whole hearted as you would have your first choice. That is Democratic doctrine. Pay no attention to campaign stories put out at the last minute as every man running for office on either ticket is worthy of confidence.

Everyone has not lost faith in this section. Wednesday found postal employees struggling with forty-two mailsacks full of catalogs from a nationally known mail order house. The books numbered 840.

R. F. Spitzer, candidate for prosecuting attorney of New Madrid County, on the Republican ticket, was a Sikeston visitor Thursday and paid The Standard office a visit. He seems to be a clean cut young fellow and should be nominated by his party as their standard bearer, then if elected will make them an officer that no citizen can be ashamed of.

Spencer Black of Wewoka, Okla., is here for a visit with friends. He reports the family as being well.

We are glad to report that J. N. Ross was able to return to his duties at the McKnight-Keaton Wholesale House Monday, after undergoing a minor operation at St. Mary's Hospital, Cairo.

Sikeston Area Hit

While crops in the Sikeston area are hard hit by the prolonged drought, it is pointed out that lands in the bottom this year give promise of fair to above average returns. Some such "black" lands have not been in cultivation for several years. Sandy land will produce very short crops this year.

The situation this year is exactly reversed from last. The 1929 growing season was cut short by much flood water allowing no farming, or very little, on bottom farms. Ridge farms on the other hand produced and produced big crops. This year heavy black land in the bottoms looks mighty good, and cotton and corn are withstanding the lack of moisture extremely well.

There is suffering, however, even now. Not in the memory of residents here have as many requests for aid been made during the month of July as are found day after day at the City Hall. We have from five to seven almost any day in the week, said Mayor N. E. Fuchs. Most of them are referred to the Red Cross and other relief-giving agencies.

There is a general movement of persons from place to place in search of something to do. Those who make their living traveling, report that they cannot remember seeing as many middle aged and old folks on the road, "hiking somewhere". It is foolish to suppose that the many "hitch hikers" have hit the "thumbing trail" out of a desire to "see America first". Most of them are destitute, and out of work.

A prominent Sikeston citizen whose name needs not be mentioned to give weight to the report, states that townspeople have no accurate knowledge of actual conditions in the drought-stricken area. Especially pathetic is the condition of some hill folks whose meager crops are burned tinder dry, whose wells, springs and creeks have dried up and who consequently have neither forage nor water for livestock.

This same person reports a negro tenant family living from now until the cotton season on ten dollars. The formulae is this: One barrel of corn-meal, 50 pounds of lard, one bushel of potatoes and a half bushel of beans. This available food supply will be augmented by rabbits even though they are not in season, and fish. The negro man spent the last dime of his ten dollars for a box of shotgun shells, and one hundred hooks and a bit of fish line.

Our farmer-businessman claims that the landowner sees nothing in prospect on his farms to repay him money already spent "grub staking" his tenants, let alone getting the cost of seed, farm implements, etc., out of the crop this fall.

In general, however, the area as a whole, is favored. There will be some corn, and the price according to market indications will be firm. Wheat and melons are bringing in little money to permit living until cotton and late fall crops can be brought in.

Reports from Steele, Caruthersville and lands between the Ridge and the Arkansas State Line, insist that bumper crops will be in order. It seems as though the farmers in that district south of Sikeston, have been among the favored few to receive rains during the growing season.

Cole Bros. One of the first "houses" in the tent city to be erected will be the cooks' quarters and mess hall, for driving stakes and lifting heavy weights creates healthy appetites.

We have been confidently informed that the elephants will be watered at a city fire plug located on North Ranney street near the J. P. Whidden home. We may hazard a guess that this particular fire plug will come in for a lot of attention Friday morning. The hint should be sufficient.

ton, Greenville, Ellsinore, Winona and Risco. The first four towns named are the District Centers.

We read where there are five million unemployed in the United States and England alone. What is the reason and what will be the harvest when the biting winds of winter come? To be cold and hungry make men desperate, and the cries of the women and children may drive heads of families to crime. The farm relief offered has been a failure and relief to the hungry will now go before Congress. It is a stupendous task to find ways and means to provide for the poor and the lowly, but Congress has had little trouble to give relief to Big Business who now control the country. Taxation and the tariff finds everything the poor man has right in sight, while Big Business can carefully hide their ready cash from the tax gatherer, and the tariff protects his interests while the poor man pays the difference.

In Kansas City recently two men registered at a prominent hotel. They induced the bell boy who showed them to their room to get them a pint of liquor. Then they had him arrested and now he is serving four months in jail. The men were agents of the prohibition enforcement department. They also were unmitigated scoundrels, and so is anybody else who will induce somebody to break a law in order to make a case. What would you think of a sheriff who would induce some poor boob to steal a horse? We would consider him a party to the crime. That's exactly what those prohibition agents were.—Paris Appeal.

Have lovely accommodations for two refined young ladies, also young man roommate. All conveniences and home privileges. First class in every respect. Married people not considered.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

"What a lovely fur coat! What did it cost you?"
"Just one kiss".

"One you gave your husband?"
"No, one he gave the maid".—Borrowed.

Charley Blanton of The Sikeston Standard is shooting at Chilton, Crowe and myself about wanting to go to Cairo if Earl Carroll's Vanities show there. We'd bet our socks that if we were to go, we'd find Charley an early arrival and on the front row, (probably right at our warm side). And, Chilton and Crowe, too. But, getting down to brass tacks, it seems Earl will produce risque shows, and that sending him to the penitentiary doesn't teach him the lesson that he should not continue putting on indecent exhibitions. We witnessed one of his productions in St. Louis a few years ago which seemed to please all there present and if we know our greens, one of the female actors had no more clothes than a ladies' handkerchief.—Charleston Courier.

To which we add a discreet "We told you so".

The distressing account of what the Gold Star mothers did before the votive crosses in the French burying grounds, leads one to question whether re-opening heart wounds by such melancholy pilgrimages is the best way to show appreciation for maternal service and sacrifice.

ANNUAL FARM CENSUS ON

The annual State farm census of Missouri, collected through all township and county assessors and their deputies, is now in full blast throughout the State.

Secretary Jewell Mayes announces that the first assessor to make a weekly report in the 1930 farm census is Athel W. Green, White Oak

Township Assessor, Harrison County,

New Hampton, Mo.

There are twenty-five questions in the 1930 farm census, all dealing with acreages. The Harrison County report covers only 20 farms totaling 3293 averaging 164 acres per farm. The acreages ran as follows:

Corn, 740 acres; wheat, 19; oats, 172;

rye, 37; barley, 20; potatoes, 3; kafir, 4; sweet clover, 5; clover and timothy, 44; alfalfa, 11; orchards,

7; pasture, 1686; odd spots not otherwise listed, 51 acres.

Harrison County does not find it self entitled to all of the credit, because, later in the same day, a 20-farm report was received from township Assessor Henry Hesse of Joachim Township, Jefferson County, with total farm acreage of 2797, averaging 139 acres per farm.

In still later mail of the same day, Assessor W. L. Johnson of Salem Township, Dunklin County, sent in the biggest weekly report of the three, covering 100 farms, totaling 5748 acres, averaging 57 acres per farm, an unusual grouping of small cotton farms.

One of the interesting phases of these 100 farms in Dunklin County is that not a single acre of wheat was grown for 1930 harvest, but 3,675 acres are in cotton—36 acres average per farm. On these 100 farms, only 156 acres are pasture, not an acre overflowed, and only 219 acres unimproved.

Annual farm census listings are arriving at Jefferson City, daily, with weekly reports from practically every county. The preliminary returns are being tabulated daily, thus adding to the value of the monthly statis of 1930 in relation to current crop production. The new 1930 "Missouri By Counties" bulletin of 48 pages is based on the excellent annual farm census work of the township and county assessors in 1929.

THE WORLD'S LONGEST HIGHWAY

A trip by automobile from South America to the United States today is such an adventurous accomplishment that it commands general attention. Long stretches of undeveloped country must be negotiated on such a journey. An ax with which to carve a pathway through the jungle is an indispensable adjunct of the adventurer's equipment. But the day is coming when the nations of this hemisphere will be linked with broad smooth highways. The United States is now setting in motion a force that will speed the dawn of that day.

Seven years ago, at the fifth international conference of American States at Santiago, Chile, a resolution was adopted suggesting the desirability of a Pan-American highway conference "to study measures best adapted to developing an efficient program for construction of automobile highways within the different countries of America and between these different countries". In 1924, 38 leading government engineers, economists and other officials representing 20 Latin-American countries visited the United States, made an inspection tour of American highways and, subsequently, organized the Pan-American conference for highway education. They also resolved themselves into committee on program for the first Pan-American highway congress, which met at Buenos Aires in 1925.

From these beginnings there developed in Latin America a strong sentiment for road improvement and for the construction of an international highway linking the capitals of the nations of the Americas. Finally, in 1929, the Pan-American Highway Congress adopted a program calling on all the South American countries to prepare complete studies of their highway system plans in order to meet the needs of intercommunication of their political subdivisions and to provide convenient connections with the highway systems of neighboring countries. The program suggested was given impetus by a resolution adopted by the United States Congress a few months prior to the 1929 meeting, authorizing an appropriation of $50,000 to enable the Secretary of State to co-operate with the several governments, upon their requests, in the reconnaissance surveys to develop the facts as to the feasibility of possible routes, the probable cost, the economic service, and such other information as would permit a visualization of the whole undertaking of financing and building an international highway.

In accordance with the resolution, engineers of the Bureau of Public Roads are now en route to Panama, where they will open a field office to co-operate with South American governments in the work preliminary to construction of a highway link between the capitals of the American nations. Guatemala, Costa Rica and Panama have bespoken their assistance, and South American nations are expected to follow suit. The projected highway, when completed, will be the longest, most picturesque, and potentially the most important thoroughfare in the world.—Washington Post.

Mayor Jimmie Walker of New York when called up by Mayor Drum of Cape Girardeau over long distance, at the opening of the new telephone plant at the Cape, replied: "Frankly, I have never heard of Cape Girardeau before". Can you tie that one? The idea; never heard of Cape Girardeau, never heard of Mayor Ed Drum or Attorney Orren Wilson or the fellows who received the "threatening letters". Jimmy is a good Democrat, all right, but honestly, we believe he lied about Cape Girardeau.—Illino Jimplicite.

Why Democrats Should Nominate Fulbright For Congress.

BECAUSE—there has never been a time in the last half century when a Democratic Congress composed of men of tried and proven ability is needed like it is today.

BECAUSE—he has served faithfully and well and made a record that squares with party principles and platform promises.

BECAUSE—he has proven himself worthy of public and party trust, and worthy of the confidence of the great common people, with whom and for whom he has always stood.

BECAUSE—there isn't a problem confronting the people of this great District but what he is familiar with. His experience and ability qualify him for effective service in solving them.

BECAUSE—it is more important to choose a party candidate for the service he can render and upon his proven ability as to vote-getter than it is to choose one for the purpose of honoring an individual or complimenting a county.

BECAUSE—he is the strongest man our Party can nominate this year. In the Republican landslide of 1928, when he was the Party's nominee for Congress, he ran from 600 to 900 votes ahead of our candidates for State office in this District. Districts are frequently won or lost by closer margins.

LET'S NOMINATE OUR STRONGEST MAN NEXT TUESDAY AND WE'LL ELECT HIM IN NOVEMBER.

IF YOU MUST BORROW MONEY, FIND OUT WAYS AVAILABLE TO YOU

There is absolutely nothing to be ashamed of when you borrow money—provided you are borrowing it for a proper purpose. Recognizing the fact that many needy persons must borrow funds from time to time, various types of lending organizations have grown up—some good and some bad.

Many of these institutions are ably officered, properly operated and give the borrower a square deal. Others less scrupulous, take advantage of the borrower's circumstances and force conditions upon him that are both unfair and illegal. Among the latter class are salary buyers, loan sharks and others who obtain as high as 400 per cent interest on their loans by various devices.

A person who must borrow money is entitled to know of the existing methods whereby loans may be secured. He should know the rate of interest. He should know the general reputation of the lender. The interest a borrower must pay depends almost entirely upon the amount of risk assumed by the lender. As the risk increases, the cost of the loan increases.

The Better Business Bureau of St. Louis has prepared an interesting leaflet describing some of the more common methods of making small loans in Missouri. A copy of this leaflet can be secured without cost or obligation by writing, phoning or calling at the office of the Bureau. If you live outside of the State of Missouri, we will get similar information for you from our affiliated organizations.—Better Business Bureau of St. Louis.

ZIMMERMAN THE MAN TO LEAD DEMOCRATS TO VICTORY

The Democrats of Dunklin County present to their fellow Democrats of the 14th Congressional District Hon. Orville Zimmerman of Dunklin County as a candidate for the nomination to Congress.

Mr. Zimmerman is in the prime of life, upstanding and thoroughly qualified; has never been a candidate for any office. He is a most excellent citizen, an active church worker, Mason, member of the Lions Club and American Legion, and of unquestioned character; is a lawyer of great ability, fine address and personality.

He has, in season and out, given his time and his money for the welfare of the party and its nominees. He represents 7500 Democrats of Dunklin County who have always responded to the call for the November victory. There has not been in 25 years a single nominee for any office in the gift of the party and for County could vote, who has not been whom the Democrats of Dunklin aided on the stump by Mr. Zimmerman.

He is an able and eloquent speaker and it is largely due to his unselfish service that Dunklin County has, year after year, responded with huge Democratic majorities.

We believe Dunklin County is entitled to have the candidate for Congress this year. There has never been a Congressman from Dunklin County, although we have contributed more to the majorities of the successful candidates than has any other county in the district. This has been the case for more than 40 years. Other counties about us and over the State have faltered and some of them captured by the enemy, but not so with Dunklin County. The battles have often been fierce, but our ranks have never broken and our majorities continue to grow.

Flood Control is the big problem in the east end of the district. Zimmerman has intimate knowledge of our flood disasters. With him as our standard bearer, Republicans by the hundreds in the east portion of the district will rally to his support in November.

With Zimmerman as the nominee for Congress victory is assured. We earnestly ask that the Democrats of the 14th District at the primary on August 5, 1930, support Mr. Zimmerman.

MISSOURI NOW HAS 566 MILES OF ROAD IN SYSTEM

According to figures compiled from "progress reports" sent to Jefferson City each week, Missouri can boast of 556.3 miles of earth, gravel and concrete roads in the State system. The figures were compiled up to and including July 19.

During the week previous to July 19, a total of 10.7 miles of earth roads, 26.9 miles of gravel and 19.3 miles of concrete roads had been constructed, making the total for the week 56,993 miles. The State system of 556.3 miles included 194.2 miles of earth, 208.2 miles of gravel and 163.8 miles of concrete highways.

Of the 335 projects under construction in Missouri only 33 were located in Division 10 "but there are several more in view in the near future" local engineers pointed out.

DAIRYING

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.

St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. LeGear is a graduate of Ontario Veterinary College, 1892. Thirty-eight years of veterinary work. Eminent authority on diseases and raising of dairy cows other livestock and poultry. Nationally known lecturer, writer and author.

IF YOUR COWS COULD LOOK OVER A MENU

Every mother who has prepared meals for her children knows how difficult it is to please the little ones. It takes plenty of coaxing and sometimes constant threatening to get children to eat what is good for them.

The owner of a dairy herd should realize that cows, too, have different tastes and appetites the same as people. Feeds that will be gobbled up freely by some cows will not be touched by others. Like children, however, cows can be taught to like certain things even after they refuse to eat them at first.

I have stressed in previous articles the necessity of proper combinations of food and the quantities necessary for the maximum production of milk. Therefore, every attempt should be made to tempt the cow's appetite so that she may eat all that it puts before her.

Frequently, molasses is mixed with feeds to induce the cows to eat. It is quite desirable to have in the diet a feed that contains juices similar to the juices of pasture grass. Silage is one of them, and wet beet pulp another. Because of the nature of the digestive system of the cow, bulk is important. The more common bulky grain foods are wheat bran, ground oats, and corn and cob meal. In mixing a grain ration so that it will have both bulk and an appealing flavor usually three or four grains are mixed together. In the case of cows that are in the midst of heavy production a still greater variety in the diet is recommended.

The effect of certain foods should be known to every farmer. We know, for instance, that cottonseed meal is constipating, while linseed meal has the opposite effect. It is important that neither one be fed in too great quantities. Three or four pounds a day is the maximum. Silage, clover hay, and alfalfa hay are laxative. On the other hand, timothy hay, oat straw, and corn stover are constipating. In winter this should be watched carefully. If the roughages you are using are constipating, the grain mixture should have some sort of a laxative content.

Minerals are very important. Dairy cows and all animals, except those which eat meat, require a large amount of salt. It should be available at all times to dairy cattle. If the salt is given to them with the grain the proper proportion is about one pound to each one hundred pounds of grain mixture.

The grinding of grain may help to digest it, especially where there are seeds. Sometimes as high as 20 per cent of the grain seeds will pass through the digestive tract of the cow untouched, unless it is ground. The roughages are easier to feed when they are cut up. The cow will eat more of it if it is in small pieces, although the cutting does not have any particular effect on digestion. Sometimes grain is soaked before it is fed. A bran mash made of wheat bran mixed with warm water is frequently given to cows especially before and after freshening.

An interesting two-year experiment is being conducted at Cornell University for the purpose of finding the protein content of various grain mixtures. Three lots of cows are being used and they are being fed rations of 16%, 20% and 24% protein, respectively. It might be interesting to know the proportions of feed that are being used in this test. The hay for each animal is fed at the rate of one pound for every one hundred pounds of live weight. Silage is at the rate of three pounds to every one hundred pounds of live weight. Grain is at the rate of one pound to every three and one-half pounds (pints) of milk.

But having determined the proper quantities of food each cow should have, be sure she eats all you give her. If she does not clean up her box it may not be a sign of overfeeding but an indication that the feed is not palatable. You will, therefore, have to do as mothers do for their children, mix in flavors that will tickle the appetite.

Many people, particularly those who are acquainted with the use of honey in the granulated form, prefer granulated honey to liquid honey, and there is always a good market for the former. Granulated honey can be used very much like butter, can be spread readily and the stickiness, to which so many people object, is obviated when honey is in this condition. Almost all honeys have a tendency to granulate after being removed from the hive. Alfalfa honey in particular granulates quickly after being extracted.

YOUTH'S RIBS CUT OUT TO MAKE HEART WINDOW; PATIENT IS RECOVERING

Camden, Ark., July 25.—The most unusual operation ever undertaken in Camden and probably the first of its kind in the State, was performed at the Camden Hospital by a local surgeon. A window was made in boy's chest to relieve pain caused by an enlarged heart which was too large for the chest cavity. Part of three ribs were removed by the operation and the boy is recovering and is completely free of pain.

The youth is Pat Smith, 17, of Ogemaw, 15 miles south of Camden. He has what is called an ox heart, because of its immense size. He has had heart trouble practically all his life and recently the pain had become almost unbearable. Local surgeons were consulted and they advised that a window be cut over the heart to relieve the pressure. It was so advised that the youth be taken to St. Louis for the operation.

Nothing was done about the matter and the boy's heart continued to grow and cause severe pain. Not long ago the same surgeon was consulted and the same advice was given. A local surgeon volunteered to perform the delicate operation.

Young Smith was taken to the Camden Hospital and the operation performed. A window was made over the heart by removing four inches of three ribs. The operation is successful and Pat is completely relieved of pain and is rapidly recovering.

This is an unusual case and the operation is a rare one, as less than 150 operations of this kind have been recorded, according to local surgeons.

MELON SHIPMENTS START IN KENNEDT NEIGHBORHOOD

Kennett, July 26.—Watermelon shipments began this week with two cars being loaded out the first of the week by J. F. McHaney farm west of White Oak. Most farmers have been delaying loading until the buyers arrive from the Georgia fields where they have been holding on until the crop here is ready. With the continued drouth and hot weather of the past several weeks the crop here has been somewhat cut and County Agent Talbert's estimate of 628 cars for Dunklin County, made June 10, will in all probability be too high.

SALMON SWIMS 1300 MILES IN 44 DAYS

New York.—Evidence that certain species of fish travel great distances from their breeding areas is shown by a Pacific Salmon. After being marked with a metal tag by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries in Alaskan waters, the salmon was caught 1300 miles away 44 days later in a Siberian stream, according to report received by the American Game Protective Association.

For more than a decade the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries has been carrying on its marking experiments, using metal tags each of which bears a serial number. Fishermen who return these tags to the bureau receive from 25 cents to $1 depending on the species of fish.

Marking experiments have shown that regardless of how much salmon may indulge the wanderlust, they always return to home waters for the spawning season.

Another way of marking is to remove certain fins in such a manner that no confusion with unmarked fish can result.

12-FOOT, 400-POUND "DADDY" OF GATERS KILLED

Gulfport, Miss., July 25.—The "daddy" of the alligator kingdom was killed on Biloxi River, near Saucier, 15 miles north of here, yesterday, by a group of farmers and sheep raisers, who after missing hogs and sheep for several months, went out on a hunting expedition to locate the big reptile, which they believed was causing the wholesale destruction.

The monstrous reptile was 12 feet in length and weighed nearly 400 pounds, and was taken only after volley after volley of shots from three guns had been poured into his face, putting out both eyes.

The capture was effected after the big fellow's den had been located, and after he had broken a large chain to which a big hook, baited with a rabbit, was attached. The hook and a portion of the chain were found in his stomach after he was killed.

The hide of the big saurian, measuring 12 feet in length and four feet in width, will be valuable, said D. S. Wedgeworth, who with Leander Ladnier and Edward Dye, made the capture.

A new and promising fumigant which may prove to be more satisfactory than carbon disulphide is ethylene oxide, a material discovered in the course of a search for better fumigants conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. Preliminary tests with this gas have given encouraging results in the fumigation of dried fruits. It appears to be more effective, pound for pound, than carbon disulphide, and apparently can be used with greater safety.

WILL PREACH IN MALONE PARK DURING AUGUST, SAYS ELDER JOHN HUFFMAN

Due to such unusual interest in the services he has been conducting in the band stand in Malone Park the past two weeks, Elder John B. Huffman has kindly consented to preach every Saturday night, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and Sunday night at 8 o'clock during the month of August, after nearly 100 held up their hands Sunday night to express a desire to have them continued.

He should be in service in Oklahoma, Arkansas or other States, but has observed that there is such an unprecedent need right here in Sikeston of preaching the full gospel, that he has canceled other engagements in the different States to give the Word of God to Sikestonians of all classes, high, low, rich and poor, prince and plebian.

The people have found out that our services are conducted in a sane, orderly, Biblical manner without disturbing the neighborhood. Come early to get a good seat. Will endeavor to have more seats at future services. Come and bring the children with you and don't leave because one of them is fretful and can't help crying. It won't disturb me.

Saturday evening and also Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Elder Huffman will preach on an important subject. Come and hear these discourses.

es. Sunday afternoon, August 3, he will do some Bible teaching. He will explain the scripture in Matthews 5:9 and prove positively who are "The Peacemakers". And what is meant by "No man Can Put New Wine Into Old Bottles". Also, will talk on "Excuses".

Sunday school will be organized at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning. If you are not sending your children to any other Sunday school, let them come here. Classes for all. Bible explanations of deep scriptural points clearly made.

The writer has no church building or congregation here. Will erect a church building in the near future. We do not preach creeds, doctrins or dogmas. The full gospel and the old-time religion.—John Huffman.

DROUGHT ENDANGERS MILLIONS OF FISH THROUGHOUT NATION

Millions of fish throughout the United States are in danger of perishing in the smaller streams, lakes, ponds, bayous and pot holes because of the drought, according to reports to the American Game Protective Association. Sportsmen, conservation officials and others are doing what they can to rescue the endangered fish and transfer them to permanent bodies of water.

The "June Rise" in the South took fish into the backwaters, depositing them in small shallow lakes and drainage ditches. The drought and evaporation has so depleted the water area that in hundreds of such places the fish can be seen floundering with their dorsal fins out of the water as their under-parts scrape the bottom. Many thousands have already died and millions are in immediate danger of death.

"If you learn of any such conditions in your locality, please notify the nearest game warden, sportsman's organization, or deputy sheriff," Carlos Avery, president of the Association urges.

"This perilous condition seems to obtain in practically every State for the long drought was nation-wide. And perhaps, the worst is yet to come; for August is usually one of our driest months. So, if we may urge, please do everything you can to rescue fish in such a state and transfer them to permanent water. This is a conservation activity everyone may engage in with profit to the nation and State, town and community, for practically everyone fishes. We would advise against eating fish taken from such water for, under such conditions, they cannot be very sanitary", Mr. Avery concluded.

REOPEN CASE OF NEGRO WHO "ACCIDENTLY" SHOT WIFE

John Hawkins, colored, of near Marston, who was released by a coroner's jury, July 20, for shooting his wife to death, is to be given a hearing before Squire Haubold August 6, at which time the State hopes to secure additional witnesses. Hawkins was released at the coroners jury because he claimed he was cleaning his gun and his wife was accidentally killed. Following the inquest, it was learned that his wife wished to leave but was forced to stay by Hawkins.

Sam Berry of New Madrid, charged with burglary and larceny, and on pleading guilty, received three years in the penitentiary, was transferred to the State Institution last Friday.

ADVANCE GROUP LEAVES FOR CO. K CAMP SITE WEDNESDAY

Capt. T. C. Dye, Supply Officer, 140th Infantry, left for Camp Clark, Nevada, Mo., Wednesday morning in command of the Advance detachment which always precedes the regiment, for the purpose of securing the necessary supplies prior to the arrival of the troops.

This detachment secures and places all tentage, and has the rations ready for issue so that the Mess Sergeants and Cooks can get right to work as soon as they reach their company streets.

The first troops will reach Camp Clark about 6:30 a. m. Sunday, and the labor of establishing camp is completed by noon.

Mail for Guardsmen should be addressed as follows:

Private John Doe,
Co. K, 140th Infantry
Nevada, Mo.

A similar item was published two years ago in a nearby town and it was taken literally by parent, who sent mail to "Private John Doe".

A large sign with the coat of arms of the 140th Infantry on it has been painted locally and will be used to mark the regimental area.

DISTRICT BEGINS TO MARKET WATERMELONS

At least sixteen cars of watermelons were shipped to market Tuesday and Wednesday from Sikeston, Miner, Blodgett, Bertrand and McMullin. A report is not available from Keweenaw and Vanduser.

Shipper's were loading Dixie Bells and Thurman melons averaging around 20 to 28 pounds with small melons in the majority. Quality and tastiness of the popular summertime melon is exceptionally good this year, but sun scalds and "burnts" are frequently found.

Bill Sikes shipped two cars from Bertrand Tuesday evening. Cars averaged 1200 melons and brought $150 per car. Ray Walker and A. C. Sikors had two cars ready for shipment at Miner, and three cars were in process of being loaded. One car had been partially loaded on the Sikes spur east of town.

McMullin shippers loaded five cars Wednesday morning.

According to shippers the market remains firm at from $125 to $180 for medium sized melons. Demand is strong for 30 pound averages, but the local supply will fall slightly below the average weight.

Growers claim that the present heat and hot winds have caused much premature ripening, and that some melons are scalded.

Vines in many fields are still full of small melons which will mature in three to four weeks, provided they get rain in a short time. Otherwise the local crop will be cut extremely short. One person who studies the melon crop as part of his business advanced the opinion that the Sikeston district crop was cut fully sixty per cent. Acreage, he states, is larger this year than last, but drought and heat has reduced the yield more than fifty per cent.

TWO DIE IN MADRID SHOOTING AFFAIR

New Madrid, July 29.—Albert Reed, colored, of near Martin's Chapel, Nevada, Mo., Wednesday morning in command of the Advance detachment which always precedes the regiment, for the purpose of securing the necessary supplies prior to the arrival of the troops.

According to testimony secured at the inquest, Reed went to the home of Dave Brown and asked him to drive him (Reed) about four miles. Brown asked why he wished to go, whereupon Reed drew his revolver and shot Brown twice. He shot another negro in the arm, the bullet glancing off and killing Jim Sanders, 7 years old. The lad was shot thru the mouth and instantly killed.

Reed's first and intended victim, was shot just above the heart and in the shoulder. Frank Harris, another victim, is in the hospital suffering from wounds in his abdomen and arm.

Reed testified that Brown was friendly with Mrs. Reed and that Brown alone was marked for the killing. Six shots were fired by the enraged negro, who claims that the others were injured accidentally. He was taken into custody at the J. K. Robbins farm near Marston by Tom Lee and Mr. O'Kelley of Portageville.

A preliminary hearing will be held for the killer Friday before Steve Swilley, Justice of the Peace of Portageville. Brown's wife and son were witnesses of the tragedy. An inquest was held Sunday night at the homes of the deceased, the coroner's jury ordering Brown held for the prosecutor's office.

LITTLE RIVER DRAINAGE CONTROVERSY SETTLED

Cape Girardeau, July 29.—The Board of Supervisors of the Little River Drainage District yesterday gave its final approval to an agreement ending the controversy between the bondholders and the district. Negotiations had been under way for some time.

Under the terms of the agreement the Bondholders' Protective Committee agrees to accept $400,000 from the taxes to be raised in 1930; $450,000 from the taxes in 1931; $500,000 in 1932, $550,000 in 1933 and $600,000 in 1934.

The taxes, including both interest and principal, have been averaging approximately $900,000 per year, which means the taxpayers of the Little River Drainage District will have to pay during the next five years only a little over 50 per cent of what they have been paying up to this time.

Under the terms of the agreement the district also obtains the right to compromise all delinquent taxes on a basis favorable to the landowner.

MAY DEMONSTRATE LIGHT AND POWER TRUCK OCT. 3 IN SCOTT COUNTY

In order to demonstrate the labor saving possibilities of electricity on the farm and in the farm home, a truck with trailer attached has been fitted out with modern electrical equipment by the Missouri College of Agriculture, and has begun a series of demonstration trips to various counties in the State. R. R. Parks and R. W. Oberlin of the college faculty are in charge of the truck, the equipment of which includes an electrically operated feed grinder, washing machine, milking machine, water system, refrigerator, and pieces of household equipment, such as heaters, irons, fans, toasters, vacuum cleaners, etc. Different methods of wiring farm buildings for light and power are demonstrated on panels mounted on the truck.

The tentative schedule calls for a demonstration in Scott County October 3, but definite word of the place has not been received from A. J. Renner, County Agent.

PREPARE IN DETAIL FOR CO. K CAMP

Several Guardsmen from Sikeston have been selected by the Commanding Officer, 140th Infantry, to be instructors in the schools which are held within the regiment during the afternoon periods while at Camp Clark in August.

At these schools instruction in more detail is given than is given during the morning drill periods. Students from each company are selected by the unit commanders, and the men so selected are then available as instructors when the units return to their home stations.

In the school for Company supply officers, supply sergeants, and mechanics, the instructor in charge is Captain Tanner C. Dye, who is the Supply Officer, 140th Infantry.

The schedule for this school calls for demonstrations, the actual preparation of forms for handling damaged or destroyed property, lectures on the care and storing of federal property, and the methods used in property accounting. This school will be conducted on the first three days of both weeks.

In the Weapons School, Captain A. D. Sheppard of Doniphan is the senior instructor and he has Sergeant Guy Weekley of Co. K to assist in rifle marksmanship and Corporal J. F. Cox of Co. K to assist with the automatic rifle work. These two NCOs were selected because of their interest and ability with the weapons.

It will be recalled that Corporal Cox was called upon to give a demonstration with the auto rifle at the time of the last Annual Armory Inspection early this year.

Especial attention will be given in the Weapons School to teaching the correct coaching methods so that the students will be available as coaches when record and preliminary firing is done during the last three days of the first week in Camp.

Instruction in the coaching methods to be used in firing the pistol will also be given those men in units which are armed with that weapon, and it is hoped that many troopers from Co. K will return to Sikeston authorized and qualified to wear the coveted marksmanship medals and bars.

MEREDITH HELD ON SIX BOGUS CHECK CHARGES

Meredith Sellards, 21, now an attorney of St. Louis, was being held by St. Louis police Wednesday on six charges in connection with passing worthless checks in the city. Information was furnished by Miss Gertrude Kelly, convicted and escaped bad check passer, in a statement filed with the Circuit Attorney's office.

Sellards, who has been under arrest since Saturday, refused to discuss the case with reporters in his cell at Police Headquarters last night other than to deny the charges. "All I know about the case is what the police have told me and you know how they change their minds so often," Sellards declared.

"However, I absolutely deny any charges in connection with the passing of worthless checks, or having any connection with anyone passing worthless checks", he asserted.

In response to questions by reporters, Sellards said he did not know Miss Kelly, and as far as he knew, had never met her. Asked if he could explain then why she had implicated him, Sellards replied; "I do not know of any reason for her doing anything like that unless someone is trying to frame". He refused to discuss the case further, promising to give out a statement after he is released on bail today.

Sellards said his attorney, Joseph Linder, had notified his father, who resides at Festus, Mo., and he had promised to come to St. Louis today and arrange bail. Circuit Attorney Miller announced he would require the attorney to furnish $1500 bond on each of the charges.

Sellards is a tall, broad-shouldered young man, with dark hair combed straight back. He said he was graduated from the City College of Law in 1928, and until March of this year had an office in the Paul Brown Building.

Sellards is believed to be a former Sikestonian, a graduate from the local high school, class of '26.

TEMPERATURE BELOW 100 MARK THIS WEEK

Sikeston enjoyed a brief "rest stop" this week from Old Sol's endurance record when the temperature tumbled from 110 degrees Monday, to 99 Tuesday and only 98 Wednesday.

Relief-bringing winds breezed along during the two-day period cooling off the heat-stricken area. Minimum or lowest temperatures for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are given as 77, 76 and 72 degrees respectively.

A trace of rain was noticed Thursday morning, and cloudy skies raised hopes, whether false or true, for a real drenching downpour.

Thermometers substantiated the hopes for a rain. The mercury gradually dropped Thursday morning, reaching a relatively low point of 80.5 degrees by 9:25 o'clock.

FIRE DESTROYS LOG HOUSE BUILT 1874 NEAR BENTON

Monday, July 28, the home of Walter Goddard, near the top of Jackson Hill was burned to the ground. The family had just eaten dinner and Mr. Goddard and son, Henry, had comfortably seated themselves on the front porch to enjoy a summer breeze rustling through the tree tops while the thermometer was registering at 107 degrees in the shade, and Mrs. Goddard, who was still back in the kitchen, happened to notice fire falling from the ceiling.

Realizing the time was on for some quick action, they managed to save a part of their household goods, but quite a lot of canned fruit in a cellar was burned. The house was insured. The family was fortunate to have a vacant tenant house nearby, where they will live until they can rebuild. This was a log house of the old pioneer type and was built by J. C. Clymer in 1874, and had weathered the storms of many winters.—Joe L. Moore.

SHARTEL HAS UNTIL SATURDAY TO FILE

Attorney General Sharrel has until Saturday this week to file a brief in the case of City of Sikeston vs. L. D. Thompson, State Auditor. The friendly test case originated from the April 1 election in which Sikeston voted on a municipal light and power vote to carry the proposition.

The State contends in the present suit that enough qualified voters did not vote to carry the proposition.

A fifteen-day period was granted the Attorney-General to file a brief, when the City originally filed its writ with the State Auditor.

Chief Justice Randolph has indicated that he would assign the case to one of the Justices on the State Supreme Bench in the near future and that a decision might be expected within the next thirty days.

FORMER SIKESTONIAN DIES WHILE VISITING IN KENTUCKY

Mrs. Nellie Anne Wallace, 28 years old, died Saturday at the home of her brother, Ellard Tate, in Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Wallace had been living in Flint, Mich., and underwent an operation recently. While convalescing, she came to Sikeston to visit relatives, and two weeks ago went to Kentucky to visit her brother. In Louisville she became critically ill, necessitating an operation for acute appendicitis. Peritonitis developed and the patient died a few days after the operation.

Besides her husband, Hubert Wallace, she leaves her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tate, three brothers and three sisters.

The body was brought to the Welsh Funeral Parlor and services were conducted Tuesday evening at the Sikeston Baptist church with Rev. A. C. Rudloff officiating. Interment was made in the Sikeston City Cemetery.

24 B'VILLE GOLFERS IN SUNDAY TOURNEY

Blytheville will invade the Sikeston golfing realm Sunday with twenty-four players, according to arrangements completed this week between the two clubs.

Sikeston's sharpshooters were defeated in rather convincing fashion earlier in the season when they visited the Arkansas County Club. The visitors come to Southeast Missouri with a reputation of being distance shooters, and the local boys have been braving the heat this week in an attempt to whittle down that extra stroke or two which may be the margin between victory or defeat.

'GOVERNMENT SHOULD AID IN DROUGHT'

Piggott, Ark., July 29.—Senator Robinson in his address here yesterday heard by four thousand persons, among other things said:

"A great blight has fallen on the land. An appalling condition is threatened to the farmers of our State. There will be almost a complete crop failure due to the drought.

Practically no feed for livestock will be produced this season. Not better than one-third of a crop of corn and cotton can be hoped for. There will be a failure of fresh vegetable supply. The results will be limited to this year, but will extend to 1931.

"At the beginning of next season our farmers will be without seed, feed and other supplies. Their credit will have been exhausted. Local financial institutions will not be able to furnish adequate funds. Bankruptcy indeed threatens many farmers now. This problem is so vital that it overshadows partisan and personal considerations and requires decisive co-operation. Both the State and the federal government should help in tiding over the danger.

"Seed, foodstuffs and funds necessary to enable farmers in the drought stricken areas to carry on must be supplied under the most liberal arrangements possible. To avert the wholesale foreclosure of farm mortgages something in the nature of moratorium must be put into effect.

"The details will be difficult, but not impossible to work out. This proposal is neither visionary nor impracticable. It rests on sound policy and the Congress will be responsible to the suggestion when the facts are fairly presented.

"It may be necessary that the State join with the national government in sharing the liability and in administering the relief. I have no doubt that a fair and just understanding to this end can be effected and I shall devote every possible effort in drafting and securing the passage of the necessary legislation".

This fall and winter promises to be a hard one for our people of the farm and of the town to get through. Crops are exceedingly short, many are now unemployed with a large number to join them in the early winter. Our shoe factory has been, and now is, a God send to the city and to the people. Hope they can increase their working force to full limit in order that more people can find employment. Many will be deprived of luxuries and those who can afford them will live moderately in keeping with their less fortunate neighbor. It is a mighty good time to economize, watch your step and pray.

Rev. Ensor, pastor of the Methodist Church at Murray, Ky., was a caller on the editor during the week. He and Mrs. Ensor were called here by the death of their grandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ensor. We have always liked this Methodist preacher for he had many traits like our own, and a lot that was so much better. When he was pastor in this city, we frequently heard him preach and when another comes just like him, we'll go to hear him. Good health to Rev. Ensor.

RIVER AT OSCEOLA IS DRY

Osceola, Ark., July 29.—For the first time in the history of the stream the Mississippi River at Osceola is dry. As a result of the drought which has prevailed for more than 60 days, the water has fallen and the river receded till the stream is more than a mile away from the bank at Osceola.

Wagons are busy this week hauling gravel from the river bed, which is being used for the construction of both city and privately owned streets and drives, and residents near the river front are salvaging a winter supply of coal from the huge lumps that have fallen from passing boats and barges during years past and become a part of the river bed.

Fresh tomatoes may be filled with almost any left-over meat or vegetable for a stuffed tomato salad. A filling made of chopped meat, such as chicken, veal or tongue, cooked peas, chopped pickle or cucumber, celery and salad dressing, is excellent. After the tomatoes have been peeled and scooped out they should be seasoned inside with salt, turned upside down to drain, and placed in the icebox until time to fill and serve them.

John Nichols, an Oregon County farmer residing three miles north of Alton, had an unusual experience one day last week that would delight any farmer. A pond on the Nichols farm had gone dry and Mr. Nichols with a team and slip scraper started to clean out the pond. While scraping the pond, a fine spring burst forth, which increased in volume until Mr. Nichols was chased from the pond. It wasn't long until the pond was filled and is now running over the banks, forming a small creek.—Howell County Gazette.

HARRISON SAYS TARIFF CAUSES DEPRESSION AND UNEMPLOYMENT

Washington, July 27.—Taking issue with Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, regarding the protests of 35 nations against the tariff act, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi said today that the rates in this law had prevented American farmers from selling their surplus abroad and caused a slowing down in industry, creating "increased unemployment and business depression generally".

"Whether Senator Smoot and President Hoover look upon these inexcusable increases in our traffic rates as serious, the American people must know that it has caused already a tremendous shrinkage in our exports," he said.

The "actual facts", Mr. Harrison said, were the best answers to the Senator's assertions.

"Canada already has acted thru increasing her traffic rates on scores of items against us", he continued.

Their reasons are not a secret, but are openly expressed by the statement of that country; similar action has already been taken against us by Italy, Spain, France and Switzerland. There are other countries now laying plans to impose retaliatory rates against us as well as the formulation of cartels and boycotts against our goods.

"Numerous American enterprises which have been able to prosper and enlarge their operations, thereby furnishing employment to larger numbers of employees and swell the revenues of the Federal Government, as well as State and municipal governments, are finding it necessary, because of the attitude of foreign countries against us, to restrict their operations here and locate plants abroad in order to meet these new and narrow policies of our government.

"No one factor has been more influential in precipitating economic chaos in so many businesses in this country than has the agitation, consideration and enactment of the Grundy-Smoot tariff law. The farmers are feeling it because they cannot sell their exportable surplus abroad. The low price of wheat and cotton are illustrative".

LAST MEMPHIS PACKET LINE TO SUSPEND NEXT WEEK

Memphis, Tenn., July 22.—The Valquines Steamers, Inc., last of the Mississippi River packet lines here, announced today operations will be suspended next week.

Kenneth Hill, general superintendent, said the Federal Government's decision to haul levee materials on gasoline barges removed the last source of substantial revenue. Three boats are to be offered for sale, and unless they are put back into service by someone else, their passing leaves Memphis without a packet service for the first time in more than a century.

The "Valley Queen" is to go to New Madrid, Mo., on her last trip next Monday and leave the following Thursday.

FARMER REPORTS FINDING PETRIFIED DOG RECENTLY

Williamsburg—P. A. Eaton, farmer, living on Peach Tree Fork, near Pine Hill, the Piedmont-Patterson road in Wayne County an item of interest to believe-it-or-not Ripley. Farmer Eaton reports finding the remains of "Old Shep", the family pet which suddenly and mysteriously disappeared during the winter of 1914, in part at least petrified.

Several months ago, Mr. Eaton was repairing the floor of the farm home. Upon removing the old floor, he noticed a large rock of odd design which he decided to remove. Imagine his surprise upon lifting it out to find that it was the petrified remains of "Old Shep", even to his tail.

On the side which laid on the ground, the rib bones were exposed, the flesh having decayed before the process of petrification set in. It is said that Mr. Eaton would not part with his petrified pet under any circumstances, merely because of the regard the family had for the faithful dog, and he proudly exhibits it to all comers.

Higginsville—Milton Oil Company filling station opened for business.

John Nichols, an Oregon County farmer residing three miles north of Alton, had an unusual experience one day last week that would delight any farmer. A pond on the Nichols farm had gone dry and Mr. Nichols with a team and slip scraper started to clean out the pond. While scraping the pond, a fine spring burst forth, which increased in volume until Mr. Nichols was chased from the pond. It wasn't long until the pond was filled and is now running over the banks, forming a small creek.—Howell County Gazette.

FARMER FINDS TOURISTS A PEST IN MELON PATCH

Washington, July 27.—Taking issue with Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Finance Committee, regarding the protests of 35 nations against the tariff act, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi said today that the rates in this law had prevented American farmers from selling their surplus abroad and caused a slowing down in industry, creating "increased unemployment and business depression generally".

The mails at the Chillicothe Business College the past two weeks have frequently run over 200 inquiries a day, mostly about September enrollments and indicate greater attendance than ever this fall and winter.

"The actual facts", Mr. Harrison said, were the best answers to the Senator's assertions.

"Canada already has acted thru increasing her traffic rates on scores of items against us", he continued.

One hundred and twenty men, women and children will be guests of The Standard at the Cole Bros. Circus this afternoon. The management trusts each one of them will enjoy the performance and forget their troubles for the time being, should they have any. It was mighty fine of the circus people to meet us on this proposition and it is with pleasure the management extends this courtesy to these friends.

Wednesday morning a special delivery letter was received from our son, Milton, stating that he was in St. Mary's Hospital at Evanston, Ill. His fever had been $103\frac{1}{2}$ but had subsided and he had expected to be released in a day or two and would then resume his studies at the Northwestern University. Well, our nerves are already shot to pieces by sickness in the family and a few more cases cannot hurt.

The Cole Bros. Circus will pitch their canvas on a lot near the High School and have tent room to care for all comers. We'll be there early, though we have no grandchildren to take, and the Missus and I can hold hands and enjoy the show as of old.

We Will Not Be

Undersold during our Meeting Condition Sale Friday Aug. 1st to Saturday Aug. 9th

Green Dept. StoreTo the Voters of Scott County

I have endeavored to see as many of the voters as possible during my campaign for but realizing that I have not seen them all, I take this method of asking your support and assuring you that same will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully yours,

J. Sherwood Smith

The Standard editor is extremely sorry to hear that Miss Letha Scott is quite ill at the home of her parents in this city. When we were ill several months ago, this big-hearted young woman remembered us with a gorgeous bunch of roses that cheered us very much. We shall not forget her and shall, and do wish, for her, a speedy recovery. She is suffering from adhesions following an operation for appendicitis.

Tuesday is primary election. Dispositions to some and happiness to others. Resolve to support the other fellow as whole hearted as you would have your first choice. That is Democratic doctrine. Pay no attention to campaign stories put out at the last minute as every man running for office on either ticket is worthy of confidence.

Everyone has not lost faith in this section. Wednesday found postal employees struggling with forty-two mail sacks full of catalogs from a nationally known mail order house. The books numbered 840.

R. F. Spitzer, candidate for prosecuting attorney of New Madrid County, on the Republican ticket, was a Sikeston visitor Thursday and paid The Standard office a visit. He seems to be a clean cut young fellow and should be nominated by his party as their standard bearer, then if elected will make them an officer that no citizen can be ashamed of.

Spencer Black of Wewoka, Okla., is here for a visit with friends. He reports the family as being well.

We are glad to report that J. N. Ross was able to return to his duties at the McKnight-Keaton Wholesale House Monday, after undergoing a minor operation at St. Mary's Hospital, Cairo.

Sikeston Area Hit

While crops in the Sikeston area are hard hit by the prolonged drought, it is pointed out that lands in the bottoms this year give promise of fair to above average returns. Some such "black" lands have not been in cultivation for several years. Sandy land will produce very short crops this year.

The situation this year is exactly reversed from last. The 1929 growing season was cut short by much flood water allowing no farming, or very little, on bottom farms. Ridge farms on the other hand produced and produced big crops. This year heavy black land in the bottoms looks mighty good, and cotton and corn are withstanding the lack of moisture extremely well.

There is suffering, however, even now. Not in the memory of residents here have as many requests for aid been made during the month of July as are found day after day at the City Hall. We have from five to seven almost any day in the week, said Mayor N. E. Fuchs. Most of them are referred to the Red Cross and other relief-giving agencies.

There is a general movement of persons from place to place in search of something to do. Those who make their living traveling, report that they cannot remember seeing as many middle aged and old folks on the road, "hiking somewhere". It is foolish to suppose that the many "hitch hikers" have hit the "thumbing trail" out of a desire to "see America first". Most of them are destitute, and out of work.

A prominent Sikeston citizen whose name needs not be mentioned to give weight to the report, states that townspeople have no accurate knowledge of actual conditions in the drought-stricken area. Especially pathetic is the condition of some hill folks whose meager crops are burned tinder dry, whose wells, springs and creeks have dried up and who consequently have neither forage nor water for livestock.

This same person reports a negro tenant family living from now until the cotton season on ten dollars. The formula is this: One barrel of corn-meal—50 pounds of land, one bushel of potatoes and a half bushel of beans. This available food supply will be augmented by rabbits even though they are not in season, and fish. The negro man spent the last dime of his ten dollars for a box of shotgun shells, and one hundred hooks and a bit of fish line.

Our farmer-businessman claims that the landowner sees nothing in prospect on his farms to repay him money already spent "grub staking" his tenants, let alone getting the cost of seed, farm implements, etc., out of the crop this fall.

In general, however, the area as a whole, is favored. There will be some corn, and the price according to market indications will be firm. Wheat and melons are bringing in little money to permit living until cotton and late fall crops can be brought in.

Reports from Steele, Caruthersville and lands between the Ridge and the Arkansas State Line, insist that bumper crops will be in order. It seems as though the farmers in that district south of Sikeston, have been among the favored few to receive rains during the growing season.

348 SCOUTS NOW IN AREA COUNCIL

A total of 348 Boy Scouts are now registered in the 23 troops which compose the Southeast Missouri Area, according to the report made Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Area Executive Committee held at Sikeston. Of these Scouts, 299 or 77.8 per cent are Tenderfoot; 48 or 12.6 per cent at Second Class and 37 or 9.6 per cent are First Class or above. It is felt that with Area organization in operation, both the total number of Scouts and the percentage of high ranking Scouts can be materially increased.

The troops of the Area are located in Cape Girardeau, Charleston, Sikeston, Poplar Bluff, New Madrid, Neelyville, Lutesville, East Prairie, Doniphan, Dexter, Blodgett, Anniston, Greenville, Ellsinore, Winona and Risco. The first four towns named are the District Centers.

The meeting at Sikeston was called for the purpose of officially employing the Scout Executive for the current year. The Scout Executive was authorized to carry a limited supply of Scout materials for resale in the Council office at Cape Girardeau so that better service could be given to the Scouts of the Area.

Present at the meeting were: Rush H. Limbaugh, Area President; Arthur F. Deneke, District Chairman of Cape Girardeau; E. R. Holland, District Chairman and B. A. Welsch, District Commissioner of Poplar Bluff; C. E. Brenton, District Chairman of Sikeston and Cecil G. Morris, Scout Executive.

Randles—L. E. Hyatt Construction Company received contract for erection of large central high school building.

We read where there are five million unemployed in the United States and England alone. What is the reason and what will be the harvest when the biting winds of winter come? To be cold and hungry make men desperate, and the cries of the women and children may drive heads of families to crime. The farm relief offered has been a failure and relief to the hungry will now go before Congress. It is a stupendous task to find ways and means to provide for the poor and the lowly, but Congress has had little trouble to give relief to Big Business who now control the country. Taxation and the tariff finds everything the poor man has right in sight, while Big Business can carefully hide their ready cash from the tax gatherer, and the tariff protects his interests while the poor man pays the difference.

In Kansas City recently two men registered at a prominent hotel. They induced the bell boy who showed them to their room to get them a pint of liquor. Then they had him arrested and now he is serving four months in jail. The men were agents of the prohibition enforcement department. They also were unmitigated scoundrels, and so is anybody else who will induce somebody to break a law in order to make a case. What would you think of a sheriff who would induce some poor boob to steal a horse? We would consider him a party to the crime. That's exactly what those prohibition agents were.—Paris Appeal.

Have lovely accommodations for two refined young ladies, also young man roommate. All conveniences and home privileges. First class in every respect. Married people not considered.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

"What a lovely fur coat! What did it cost you?"
"Just one kiss".

"One you gave your husband?"
"No, one he gave the maid".—Borrowed.

Charley Blanton of The Sikeston Standard is shooting at Chilton, Crowe and myself about wanting to go to Cairo if Earl Carroll's Vanities show there. We'd bet our socks that if we were to go, we'd find Charley an early arrival and on the front row, (probably right at our warm side). And, Chilton and Crowe, too. But, getting down to brass tacks, it seems Earl will produce risque shows, and that sending him to the penitentiary doesn't teach him the lesson that he should not continue putting on indecent exhibitions. We witnessed one of his productions in St. Louis a few years ago which seemed to please all there present and if we know our greens, one of the female actors had no more clothes than a ladies' handkerchief.—Charleston Courier.

To which we add a discreet "We told you so".

The distressing account of what the Gold Star mothers did before the votive crosses in the French burying grounds, leads one to question whether re-opening heart wounds by such melancholy pilgrimages is the best way to show appreciation for maternal service and sacrifice.

ANNUAL FARM CENSUS ON

The annual State farm census of Missouri, collected through all township and county assessors and their deputies, is now in full blast throughout the State.

Secretary Jewell Mayes announces that the first assessor to make a weekly report in the 1930 farm census is Athel W. Green, White Oak Township Assessor, Harrison County, New Hampton, Mo.

There are twenty-five questions in the 1930 farm census, all dealing with acreages. The Harrison County report covers only 20 farms totaling 3293 averaging 164 acres per farm. The acreages ran as follows:

Corn, 740 acres; wheat, 19; oats, 172; rye, 37; barley, 20; potatoes, 3; kafir, 4; sweet clover, 5; clover and timothy, 44; alfalfa, 11; orchards, 7; pasture, 1686; odd spots not otherwise listed, 51 acres.

Harrison County does not find itself entitled to all of the credit, because, later in the same day, a 20-farm report was received from township Assessor Henry Hesse of Joachim Township, Jefferson County, with total farm acreage of 2797, averaging 139 acres per farm.

In still later mail of the same day, Assessor W. L. Johnson of Salem Township, Dunklin County, sent in the biggest weekly report of the three, covering 100 farms, totaling 5748 acres, averaging 57 acres per farm, an unusual grouping of small cotton farms.

One of the interesting phases of these 100 farms in Dunklin County is that not a single acre of wheat was grown for 1930 harvest, but 3,675 acres are in cotton—36 acres average per farm. On these 100 farms, only 156 acres are in pasture, not an acre overflowed, and only 219 acres unimproved.

Annual farm census listings are arriving at Jefferson City, daily, with weekly reports from practically every county. The preliminary returns being tabulated daily, thus adding to the value of the monthly statistics of 1930 in relation to current crop production. The new 1930 "Missouri By Counties" bulletin of 48 pages is based on the excellent annual farm census work of the township and county assessors in 1929.

The World's Longest Highway

A trip by automobile from South America to the United States today is such an adventurous accomplishment that it commands general attention. Long stretches of undeveloped country must be negotiated on such a journey. An ax with which to carve a pathway through the jungle is an indispensable adjunct of the adventurer's equipment. But the day is coming when the nations of this hemisphere will be linked with broad smooth highways. The United States is now setting in motion a force that will speed the dawn of that day.

Seven years ago, at the fifth international conference of American States at Santiago, Chile, a resolution was adopted suggesting the desirability of a Pan-American highway conference "to study measures best adapted to developing an efficient program for construction of automobile highways within the different countries of America and between these different countries". In 1924, 38 leading government engineers, economists and other officials representing 20 Latin-American countries visited the United States, made an inspection tour of American highways and, subsequently, organized the Pan-American conference for highway education. They also resolved themselves into a committee on program for the first Pan-American highway congress, which met at Buenos Aires in 1925.

From these beginnings there developed in Latin America a strong sentiment for road improvement and for the construction of an international highway linking the capitals of the nations of the Americas. Finally, in 1929, the Pan-American Highway Congress adopted a program calling on all the South American countries to prepare complete studies of their highway system plans in order to meet the needs of intercommunication of their political subdivisions and to provide convenient connections with the highway systems of neighboring countries. The program suggested was given impetus by a resolution adopted by the United States Congress a few months prior to the 1929 meeting, authorizing an appropriation of $50,000 to enable the Secretary of State to co-operate with the several governments, upon their requests, in the reconnaissance surveys to develop the facts as to the feasibility of possible routes, the probable cost, the economic service, and such other information as would permit a visualization of the whole undertaking of financing and building an international highway.

In accordance with the resolution, engineers of the Bureau of Public Roads are now en route to Panama, where they will open a field office to co-operate with South American governments in the work preliminary to construction of a highway link between the capitals of the American nations. Guatemala, Costa Rica and Panama have bespoken their assistance, and South American nations are expected to follow suit. The projected highway, when completed, will be the longest, most picturesque, and potentially the most important thoroughfare in the world.—Washington Post.

Mayor Jimmie Walker of New York when called up by Mayor Drum of Cape Girardeau over long distance, at the opening of the new telephone plant at the Cape, replied: "Frankly, I have never heard of Cape Girardeau before". Can you tie that one?

The idea; never heard of Cape Girardeau, never heard of Mayor Ed Drum or Attorney Orren Wilson or the fellows who received the "threatening letters". Jimmy is a good Democrat, all right, but honestly, we believe he lied about Cape Girardeau.—Illino Jimmicle.

A San Francisco doctor advocates a temporary exchange of children to give parents a proper perspective. Italy would be the distinct gainer in the swapping of Mussolini for Will Rogers.

Why Democrats Should Nominate Fulbright For Congress.

BECAUSE—there has never been a time in the last half century when a Democratic Congress composed of men of tried and proven ability is needed like it is today.

BECAUSE—he has served faithfully and well and made a record that squares with party principles and platform promises.

BECAUSE—he has proven himself worthy of public and party trust, and worthy of the confidence of the great common people, with whom and for whom he has always stood.

BECAUSE—there isn't a problem confronting the people of this great District but what he is familiar with. His experience and ability qualify him for effective service in solving them.

BECAUSE—it is more important to choose a party candidate for the service he can render and upon his proven ability as to vote-getter than it is to choose one for the purpose of honoring an individual or complimenting a county.

BECAUSE—he is the strongest man our Party can nominate this year. In the Republican landslide of 1928, when he was the Party's nominee for Congress, he ran from 600 to 900 votes ahead of our candidates for State office in this District. Districts are frequently won or lost by closer margins.

LET'S NOMINATE OUR STRONGEST MAN NEXT TUESDAY AND WE'LL ELECT HIM IN NOVEMBER.

IF YOU MUST BORROW MONEY, FIND OUT WAYS AVAILABLE TO YOU

There is absolutely nothing to be ashamed of when you borrow money—provided you are borrowing it for a proper purpose. Recognizing the fact that many needy persons must borrow funds from time to time, various types of lending organizations have grown up—some good and some bad.

Many of these institutions are ably officered, properly operated and give the borrower a square deal. Others less scrupulous, take advantage of the borrower's circumstances and force conditions upon him that are both unfair and illegal. Among the latter class are salary buyers, loan sharks and others who obtain as high as 400 per cent interest on their loans by various devices.

A person who must borrow money is entitled to know of the existing methods whereby loans may be secured. He should know the rate of interest. He should know the general reputation of the lender. The interest a borrower must pay depends almost entirely upon the amount of risk assumed by the lender. As the risk increases, the cost of the loan increases.

The Better Business Bureau of St. Louis has prepared an interesting leaflet describing some of the more common methods of making small loans in Missouri. A copy of this leaflet can be secured without cost or obligation by writing, phoning or calling at the office of the Bureau. If you live outside of the State of Missouri, we will get similar information for you from our affiliated organizations.—Better Business Bureau of St. Louis.

ZIMMERMAN THE MAN TO LEAD DEMOCRATS TO VICTORY

The Democrats of Dunklin County present to their fellow Democrats of the 14th Congressional District Hon. Orville Zimmerman of Dunklin County as a candidate for the nomination to Congress.

Mr. Zimmerman is in the prime of life, upstanding and thoroughly qualified; has never been a candidate for any office. He is a most excellent citizen, an active church worker, Mason, member of the Lions Club and American Legion, and of unquestioned character; is a lawyer of great ability, fine address and personality.

He has, in season and out, given his time and his money for the welfare of the party and its nominees.

He represents 7500 Democrats of Dunklin County who have always responded to the call for the November victory. There has not been in 25 years a single nominee for any office in the gift of the party and for County could vote, who has not been whom the Democrats of Dunklin aided on the stump by Mr. Zimmerman.

He is an able and eloquent speaker and it is largely due to his unselfish service that Dunklin County has,

year after year, responded with huge

Democratic majorities.

We believe Dunklin County is entitled to have the candidate for Congress this year. There has never been a Congressman from Dunklin County, although we have contributed more to the majorities of the successful candidates than has any other county in the district. This has been the case for more than 40 years. Other counties about us and over the State have faltered and some of them captured by the enemy, but not so with Dunklin County. The battles have often been fierce, but our ranks have never broken and our majorities continue to grow.

Flood Control is the big problem in the east end of the district. Zimmerman has intimate knowledge of our flood disasters. With him as our standard bearer, Republicans by the hundreds in the east portion of the district will rally to his support in November.

With Zimmerman as the nominee for Congress victory is assured. We earnestly ask that the Democrats of the 14th District at the primary on August 5, 1930, support Mr. Zimmerman.

MISSOURI NOW HAS 566 MILES OF ROAD IN SYSTEM

According to figures compiled from "progress reports" sent to Jefferson City each week, Missouri can boast of 556.3 miles of earth, gravel and concrete roads in the State system. The figures were compiled up to and including July 19.

During the week previous to July 19, a total of 10.7 miles of earth roads, 26.9 miles of gravel and 19.3 miles of concrete roads had been constructed, making the total for the week 56,993 miles. The State system of 566.3 miles included 194.2 miles of earth, 208.2 miles of gravel and 163.8 miles of concrete highways.

Of the 335 projects under construction in Missouri only 33 were located in Division 10 "but there are several more in view in the near future" local engineers pointed out.

"ALL FED UP"

To the Voters of Scott County

I am asking for the Democratic nomination for Collector of Revenue. The most of you know me and know my record in office. I say in all sincerity that the interests of the County have always been foremost in my administration of the Collector's position. Losses which I have sustained in behalf of the County will bear me out on this statement.

The office has received my full attention twelve months in the year. My handling of the Collector's duties has been fair, impartial and efficient. I have nothing to do with the amount of your taxes; that amount is fixed by Law. My task is one of collecting the taxes.

I am thankful for the favors shown me by the voters and have tried to show my appreciation by giving the best service in my power. If re-elected, I promise to maintain and at the same time strive to improve this standard of service.

Your support and friend influence in the coming Primary will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

IF YOUR COWS COULD LOOK OVER A MENU

Every mother who has prepared meals for her children knows how difficult it is to please the little ones. It takes plenty of coaxing and sometimes constant threatening to get children to eat what is good for them.

The owner of a dairy herd should realize that cows, too, have different tastes and appetites the same as people. Feeds that will be gobbled up freely by some cows will not be touched by others. Like children, however, cows can be taught to like certain things even after they refuse to eat them at first.

I have stressed in previous articles the necessity of proper combinations of food and the quantities necessary for the maximum production of milk. Therefore, every attempt should be made to tempt the cow's appetite so that she may eat all that it put before her.

Frequently, molasses is mixed with feeds to induce the cows to eat. It is quite desirable to have in the diet a feed that contains juices similar to the juices of pasture grass. Silage is one of them, and wet beet pulp another. Because of the nature of the digestive system of the cow, bulk is important. The more common bulky grain foods are wheat bran, ground oats, and corn and cob meal. In mixing a grain ration so that it will have both bulk and an appealing flavor usually three or four grains are mixed together. In the case of cows that are in the midst of heavy production a still greater variety in the diet is recommended.

The effect of certain foods should be known to every farmer. We know, for instance, that cottonseed meal is constipating, while linseed meal has the opposite effect. It is important that neither one be fed in too great quantities. Three or four pounds a day is the maximum. Silage, clover hay, and alfalfa hay are laxative. On the other hand, timothy hay, oat straw, and corn stover are constipating. In winter this should be watched carefully. If the roughages you are using are constipating, the grain mixture should have some sort of a laxative content.

Minerals are very important. Dairy cows and all animals, except those which eat meat, require a large amount of salt. It should be available at all times to dairy cattle. If the salt is given to them with the grain the proper proportion is about one pound to each one hundred pounds of grain mixture.

The grinding of grain may help to digest it, especially where there are seeds. Sometimes as high as 20 per cent of the grain seeds will pass through the digestive tract of the cow untouched, unless it is ground. The roughages are easier to feed when they are cut up. The cow will eat more of it if it is in small pieces, although the cutting does not have any particular effect on digestion. Sometimes grain is soaked before it is fed. A bran mash made of wheat bran mixed with warm water is frequently given to cows especially before and after freshening.

An interesting two-year experiment is being conducted at Cornell University for the purpose of finding the protein content of various grain mixtures. Three lots of cows are being used and they are being fed rations of 16%, 20% and 24% protein, respectively. It might be interesting to know the proportions of feed that are being used in this test. The hay for each animal is fed at the rate of one pound for every one hundred pounds of live weight. Silage is at the rate of three pounds to every one hundred pounds of live weight. Grain is at the rate of one pound to every three and one-half pounds (pints) of milk.

But having determined the proper quantities of food each cow should have, be sure she eats all you give her. If she does not clean up her box it may not be a sign of overfeeding but an indication that the feed is not palatable. You will, therefore, have to do as mothers do for their children, mix in flavors that will tickle the appetite.

Many people, particularly those who are acquainted with the use of honey in the granulated form, prefer granulated honey to liquid honey, and there is always a good market for the former. Granulated honey can be used very much like butter, can be spread readily and the stickiness, to which so many people object, is obviated when honey is in this condition. Almost all honeys have a tendency to granulate after being removed from the hive. Alfalfa honey in particular granulates quickly after being extracted.

YOUTH'S RIBS CUT OUT TO MAKE HEART WINDOW; PATIENT IS RECOVERING

Camden, Ark., July 25.—The most unusual operation ever undertaken in Camden and probably the first of its kind in the State, was performed at the Camden Hospital by a local surgeon. A window was made in a boy's chest to relieve pain caused by an enlarged heart which was too large for the chest cavity. Part of three ribs were removed by the operation and the boy is recovering and is completely free of pain.

The youth is Pat Smith, 17, of Ogemaw, 15 miles south of Camden. He has what is called an ox heart, because of its immense size. He has had heart trouble practically all his life and recently the pain had become almost unbearable. Local surgeons were consulted and they advised that a window be cut over the heart to relieve the pressure. It was so advised that the youth be taken to St. Louis for the operation.

Nothing was done about the matter and the boy's heart continued to grow and cause severe pain. Not long ago the same surgeon was consulted and the same advice was given. A local surgeon volunteered to perform the delicate operation.

Young Smith was taken to the Camden Hospital and the operation performed. A window was made over the heart by removing four inches of three ribs. The operation is successful and Pat is completely relieved of pain and is rapidly recovering.

This is an unusual case and the operation is a rare one, as less than 150 operations of this kind have been recorded, according to local surgeons.

MELON SHIPMENTS START IN KENNEDD NEIGHBORHOOD

Kennett, July 26.—Watermelon shipments began this week with two cars being loaded out the first of the week by J. F. McHaney farm west of White Oak. Most farmers have been delaying loading until the buyers arrive from the Georgia fields where they have been holding on until the crop here is ready. With the continued drought and hot weather of the past several weeks the crop here has been somewhat cut and County Agent Talbert's estimate of 628 cars for Dunklin County, made June 10, will in all probability be too high.

SALMON SWIMS 1300 MILES IN 44 DAYS

New York.—Evidence that certain species of fish travel great distances from their breeding areas is shown by a Pacific Salmon. After being marked with a metal tag by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries in Alaskan waters, the salmon was caught 1300 miles away 44 days later in a Siberian stream, according to report received by the American Game Protective Association.

For more than a decade the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries has been carrying on its marking experiments, using metal tags each of which bears a serial number. Fishermen who return these tags to the bureau receive from 25 cents to $1 depending on the species of fish.

Marking experiments have shown that regardless of how much salmon may indulge the wanderlust, they always return to home waters for the spawning season.

Another way of marking is to remove certain fins in such a manner that no confusion with unmarked fish can result.

12-FOOT, 400-POUND "DADDY" OF GATERS KILLED

Gulfport, Miss., July 25.—The "daddy" of the alligator kingdom was killed on Biloxi River, near Saucier, 15 miles north of here, yesterday, by a group of farmers and sheep raisers, who after missing hogs and sheep for several months, went out on a hunting expedition to locate the big reptile, which they believed was causing the wholesale destruction.

The monstrous reptile was 12 feet in length and weighed nearly 400 pounds, and was taken only after volley after volley of shots from three guns had been poured into his face, putting out both eyes.

The capture was effected after the big fellow's den had been located, and after he had broken a large chain to which a big hook, baited with a rabbit, was attached. The hook and a portion of the chain were found in his stomach after he was killed.

The hide of the big saurian, measuring 12 feet in length and four feet in width, will be valuable, said D. S. Wedgeworth, who with Leander Ladnier and Edward Dye, made the capture.

A new and promising fumigant which may prove to be more satisfactory than carbon disulphide is ethylene oxide, a material discovered in the course of a search for better fumigants conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture. Preliminary tests with this gas have given encouraging results in the fumigation of dried fruits. It appears to be more effective, pound for pound, than carbon disulphide, and apparently can be used with greater safety.

WILL PREACH IN MALONE PARK DURING AUGUST, SAYS ELDER JOHN HUFFMAN

Due to such unusual interest in the services he has been conducting in the band stand in Malone Park the past two weeks, Elder John B. Huffman has kindly consented to preach every Saturday night, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and Sunday night at 8 o'clock during the month of August, after nearly 100 held up their hands Sunday night to express a desire to have them continued.

He should be in service in Oklahoma, Arkansas or other States, but has observed that there is such an unprecedented need right here in Sikeston of preaching the full gospel, that he has canceled other engagements in the different States to give the Word of God to Sikestonians of all classes, high, low, rich and poor, prince and plebian.

The people have found out that our services are conducted in a sane, orderly, Biblical manner without disturbing the neighborhood. Come early to get a good seat. Will endeavor to have more seats at future services. Come and bring the children with you and don't leave because one of them is fretful and can't help crying. It won't disturb me.

Saturday evening and also Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, Elder Huffman will preach on an important subject. Come and hear these discourses.

DROUGHT ENDANGERS MILIONS OF FISH THROUGHOUT NATION

Millions of fish throughout the United States are in danger of perishing in the smaller streams, lakes, ponds, bayous and pot holes because of the drought, according to reports to the American Game Protective Association. Sportsmen, conservation officials and others are doing what they can to rescue the endangered fish and transfer them to permanent bodies of water.

The "June Rise" in the South took fish into the backwaters, depositing them in small shallow lakes and drainage ditches. The drought and evaporation has so depleted the water area that in hundreds of such places the fish can be seen floundering with their dorsal fins out of the water as their under-parts scrape the bottom. Many thousands have already died and millions are in immediate danger of death.

"If you learn of any such conditions in your locality, please notify the nearest game warden, sportsman's organization, or deputy sheriff," Carlos Avery, president of the Association urges.

"This perilous condition seems to obtain in practically every State for the long drought was nation-wide. And perhaps, the worst is yet to come; for August is usually one of our driest months. So, if we may urge, please do everything you can to rescue fish in such a state and transfer them to permanent water.

This is a conservation activity everyone may engage in with profit to the nation and State, town and community, for practically everyone fishes. We would advise against eating fish taken from such water for, under such conditions, they cannot be very sanitary". Mr. Avery concluded.

REOPEN CASE OF NEGRO WHO "ACCIDENTLY" SHOT WIFE

John Hawkins, colored, of near Marston, who was released by a coroner's jury, July 20, for shooting his wife to death, is to be given a hearing before Squire Haubold August 6, at which time the State hopes to secure additional witnesses. Hawkins was released at the coroner's jury because he claimed he was cleaning his gun and his wife was accidentally killed. Following the inquest, it was learned that his wife wished to leave but was forced to stay by Hawkins.

Sam Berry of New Madrid, charged with burglary and larceny, and on pleading guilty, received three years in the penitentiary, was transferred to the State Institution last Friday.

ADVANCE GROUP LEAVES FOR CO. K CAMP SITE WEDNESDAY

Capt. T. C. Dye, Supply Officer, 140th Infantry, left for Camp Clark, Nevada, Mo., Wednesday morning in command of the Advance detachment which always precedes the regiment for the purpose of securing the necessary supplies prior to the arrival of the troops.

This detachment secures and places all tentage, and has the rations ready for issue so that the Mess Sergeants and Cooks can get right to work as soon as they reach their company streets.

The first troops will reach Camp Clark about 6:30 a. m. Sunday, and the labor of establishing camp is completed by noon.

Mail for Guardsmen should be addressed as follows:

Private John Doe,
Co. K, 140th Infantry
Nevada, Mo.

A similar item was published two years ago in a nearby town and it was taken literally by a parent, who sent mail to "Private John Doe".

A large sign with the coat of arms of the 140th Infantry on it has been painted locally and will be used to mark the regimental area.

DISTRICT BEGINS TO MARKET WATERMELONS

At least sixteen cars of watermelons were shipped to market Tuesday and Wednesday from Sikeston, Miner, Blodgett, Bertrand and McMullin. A report is not available from Kewanee and Vanduser.

Shipper's were loading Dixie Bells and Thurman melons averaging around 20 to 28 pounds with small melons in the majority. Quality and tastiness of the popular summertime melon is exceptionally good this year, but sun scalds and "burnts" are frequently found.

Bill Sikes shipped two cars from Bertrand Tuesday evening. Cars averaged 1200 melons and brought $150 per car. Ray Walker and A. C. Sikes had two cars ready for shipment at Miner, and three cars were in process of being loaded. One car had been partially loaded on the Sikes spur east of town.

McMullin shippers loaded five cars Wednesday morning.

According to shippers the market remains firm at from $125 to $180 for medium sized melons. Demand is strong for 30 pound averages, but the local supply will fall slightly below the average weight.

Growers claim that the present heat and hot winds have caused much premature ripening, and that some melons are scalded.

Vines in many fields are still full of small melons which will mature in three to four weeks, provided they get rain in a short time. Otherwise the local crop will be cut extremely short. One person who studies the melon crop as part of his business advanced the opinion that the Sikeston district crop was cut fully sixty per cent. Acreage, he states, is larger this year than last, but drought and heat has reduced the yield more than fifty per cent.

TWO DIE IN MADRID SHOOTING AFFAIR

New Madrid, July 29.—Albert Reed, colored, of near Martin's Chapel, went on a rampage Sunday, killing two men and probably fatally injuring a third. Reed explained that one of his victims had been friendly with his wife, and he intended to end the matter.

According to testimony secured at the inquest, Reed went to the home of Dave Brown and asked him to drive him (Reed) about four miles. Brown asked why he wished to go, whereupon Reed drew his revolver and shot Brown twice. He shot another negro in the arm, the bullet glancing off and killing Jim Sanders, 7 years old. The lad was shot thru the mouth and instantly killed.

Reed's first and intended victim, was shot just above the heart and in the shoulder. Frank Harris, another victim, is in the hospital suffering from wounds in his abdomen and arm.

Reed testified that Brown was friendly with Mrs. Reed and that Brown alone was marked for the killing. Six shots were fired by the enraged negro, who claims that the others were injured accidentally. He was taken into custody at the J. K. Robbins farm near Marston by Tom Lee and Mr. O'Kelley of Portageville.

A preliminary hearing will be held for the killer Friday before Steve Swilley, Justice of the Peace of Portageville. Brown's wife and son were witnesses of the tragedy. An inquest was held Sunday night at the homes of the deceased, the coroner's jury ordering Brown held for the prosecutor's office.
